Dear Parents and Carers

Friday 5 February 2016

Letters have now been circulated giving details of the parent consultation dates and times. It is important that teachers are able to meet with you to talk about your child's progress, their targets and how we can work together to ensure they do their very best. Appointment times will be sent home with your child on Thursday 11 February. Please do speak to your child's teacher if you can't make your meeting so that we can make alternative arrangements.

On Wednesday next week, the children will bring home a leaflet called 'Let's get sugar smart'. I hope that you will be able to take time to look at and talk about the information it contains. You'll see later on in the newsletter that we will be setting the children an exciting February half term project to design a poster about making healthy eating choices. As we did with the road safety posters, we will choose a winner from each year group and their artwork will be made into an outdoor display board for all to see.

Have a good weekend.

Miss J Ainsley, Head Teacher

Let's Get Sugar Smart – half term homework project (Reception to Year 4) You may recall from an earlier newsletter that the School Council and Mrs Burton are planning to look at healthy food and eating habits at Corbridge First School. To get them off to a good start we would really like the children to design their own healthy food/good choices poster during the February half term break. Posters should be no larger than A4 and can be handed in to the class teacher on the first day back. The teachers will talk to the children about this activity next week. Please take time to read the 'Let's get sugar smart' leaflet with your child and include a note in their homework book to let us know if you have been able to make some of the swaps they suggest or perhaps you will have time to bake the 'carrot and sultana drop scones' – they sound delicious to me. There's also information on how to download the Change4Life Sugar Smart app to find out how much hidden sugar is lurking inside your cupboard!

Uniform – price increase from 1 March 2016 - School Trends has advised that uniform prices will increase from 1 March 2016. Remember you can now order most items online –

From 23 February, the club will run on Tuesday and Wednesday lunchtimes from 12.30-1.00pm.
